NEW SEMESTER BRINGS NEW FACE BY: HARRY AN LE

LCHS began a new year with more lions. From Haiti, Wisly Pierre, joined the junior class.

Wisly can speak three languages:

Creole, French, and English. His first impression of high school was:

"We have a lot of homework. But, generally, everything is pretty descent. Good teachers! Good school!"

He is also really excited to learn about American Literature and Music.

Wisly likes to play drums and enjoys music lessons with Mr. Butler. Though there is a lot of homework to finish, he finds time to practice the drums daily. His favorite food is pizza; his favorite color is yellow, and "Count on me" is his jam.

Mr. Pierre has participated in basketball practices with the boys. He is a super musical and cheerful buddy; he helps cheer for the team at basketball games.

Though there would be a lot of "works", new things, or even culture shock while coming to Lustre, Wisly has showed a lot of effort in learning new things and intergrating with the environment. We are glad to have him here and hope he has a lot of fun with the Lustre Lions.

CLAIRE COYNE SHARES IN CHAPEL BY: THOMAS BROWN

A couple of Thursdays ago, Claire Coyne came down from Scobey to give a talk in chapel.

The chapel started off as it always does, with the worship team leading in song. That day, they sang the songs: "Awesome God", "Face Down", and "How Great is our God." Following this, Mrs. Coyne got up and started talking about junk. She worked for a Rescue Mission for 23 years, and had plenty of experience sorting through what people didn't want anymore. She said, "How quickly what we really thought was important becomes useless and unwanted. She then had us open up to Philippians 3:7-8, which says, "But what things were gain to me, these I have counted loss for Christ. Yet indeed I also count all things loss for the excellence of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord, for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and count them as rubbish, that I may gain Christ." This was Paul talking, a Pharisee of Pharisees, who had adhered perfectly to the Law. Compared to knowing Christ, Paul knew that his past accomplishments paled in significance. Mrs. Coyne also brought up the difference between knowing about Jesus and actually knowing Jesus. Saul knew of Jesus, but when he was Paul, he actually knew Him. She warned us to not live our lives merely knowing about Jesus, but to actually get to know him. She finished with, "What's the garbage in your life?" challenging us to get rid of it; counting it as a loss for Christ.

A Barnburner and a Blowout

By: Thomas Brown

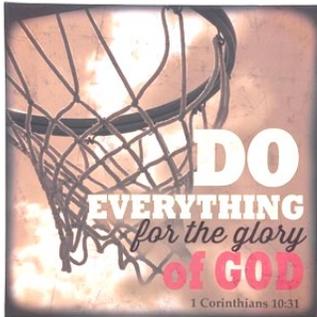

Having been bested by the Lions on their home court earlier this season, the Bainville Bulldogs came to Lustre hungry for a win. The Lions started out strong, leading 9-2 early on. The Bulldogs got their act together though, leading at the half 24-21. The ensuing second half had a lot of ups and downs, and, just like the game in Bainville, it came down to a last second play. With the game all tied up at 55 apiece, thanks to a 3 just made by Zach, the Bulldogs got the inbound, raced down the court, and had a shot roll in as the buzzer sounded, giving them the 57-55 victory.

The following day, the Lions traveled up to Scobey to challenge the undefeated Spartans. On their home court, the Spartans cranked up their game, playing with a fast tempo and forcing many turnovers. The Lions' first score came on a lay-up with 2:36 to go in the first quarter, after Scobey had already scored 19 points. The first half closed out at 36-7. The second half was no different, with Scobey extending their lead. The final score of the blowout was 72-21.

Another Weekend in the Trenches

By: Kaitlyn Toavs

After waiting all week, the Lustre Lady Lions were ready to face their next foe. On January 26th, the Bainville Bulldogs' cruiser rolled into the LCHS parking lot for some Friday night basketball. After losing to Bainville by one point earlier in the season, the Lady Lions were raring for a rematch on their home court. Both teams came to play, but the Lions had ice in their veins. Out of the gates roaring, the Lions jumped to a quick lead, but the Bulldogs stayed close behind. After thirty-two minutes of serious competition, the Lions emerged victorious, beating the non-conference foe 41-36.

While this was a good win, the Lady Lions couldn't take the weekend off to celebrate because the next day they were travelling north to face the number one seed in the district: the Scobey Spartans. Determined to play with heart, Lustre played hard, trailing the Spartans by nine points at the half. As the second half wore on, however, Scobey proved to be too much for the Lady Lions with a final score of 40-23. As districts looms near, the Lustre Lady Lions are improving every weekend and will be a force to be reckoned with come tournament time.

Lustre Lady Lions Win the Weekend By: Levi Brown

On January 19-20, the Lustre Lady Lions took the weekend with 2 wins against the purple teams, the Nashua Porcupines and the Culbertson Cowgirls. A win for the Lady Lions seemed promising as they were ahead the entire first half of the Nashua game and the second half was a repeat. The Lady Lions pounded the ball down low and also had a game of 3 ball going and they came out with a win of 60 to 27. Gabriella Capasso 25, Sadie Brown 21, Kaitlyn Toavs 6, Olivia Brown 6, Lily Short 2.

The next day, the Lions traveled to Culbertson to take on the Culbertson Cowgirls. The Lady Lions fought hard and as it was a tough throughout the game, but when the final buzzer sounded, the crowds were cheering and the scoreboard showed a 47-39 win over the Cowgirls. Sadie Brown 21, Gabriella Capasso 15, Olivia Brown 8, Kaitlyn Toavs 3.

Nashua January 19th, Culbertson January 20th By: Brady Shimmin

On Friday, the 19th of January, the Nashua Porcupines rolled up to the Lion's Den seeking a win after their last run in with the Lions at home in Nashua. They were sorely disappointed however, as the Lions easily gained a victory with a final score of 64 to 32.

Coming straight off of a win, the Lions prowled into Culbertson hungry for a victory. The Lions fought valiantly with the Cowboys, keeping the score close for the entire game. Despite the brave effort made by the entire Lustre boys team, the Lions fell to the Cowboys by just four points, with a final score of 40 to 36.

Arrowhead Representatives Speak in Chapel By: Kylie Kirkaldie

On Thursday, January 25, two ladies, Theresa and Gail, came to speak about Arrowhead College and the benefits of the one year program. Arrowhead is located somewhere by Columbus and Red Lodge Montana. The program will take you through an intensive study of God's Word throughout the year. Their ultimate goal is to equip their students, and when they graduate they will be able preach the gospel to others.

Theresa gave 2 reasons of why she thought Arrowhead was a great place to go.

1. You can go and make your faith your own. And 2. You will not regret it. She said that Arrowhead is a place where you can prepare yourself for adult life. She also gave more very persuasive reasons why to go there. Such as, they don't give homework on the weekends, they go dig up fossils in Glendive and study creation for a week, they go backpacking for a week, and last but certainly not least, they spend the last 2 weeks in Israel getting to see where the majority of the Bible took place (fees included in tuition). Arrowhead's tuition is merely $13,500 for the whole year, which includes room, board, food and the Israel trip.

Theresa then went on to speak on how to make biblical decisions. She used Proverbs 3:5-8 as a reference. First, we need to trust God, with all our heart. We have to go in wholeheartedly, or it doesn't work. Second, we need to pray for God's wisdom. And third, we need to submit to God. She then closed the message saying, "God's plan would be our plan if we knew what God knows. Trust in the Lord in any decision you face."

2018 Honor Band and Choir Festival By: Kaitlyn Toavs

The morning dawned windy and bleak on Monday the 29th. The roads were slick and the journey was treacherous, but after a short run-in with the ditch, the school van finally pulled into the Glasgow High School parking lot, none the worse for wear.

The LCHS troupe, led by Mr. Butler, consisted of Megan Fast, Emily Eggar, Kylie Kirkaldie, Kaitlyn Toavs, and Thomas Brown. The first two came to sing with the choir while the latter three were ready to toot away on their instruments. The 2018 District Honor Band and Choir Festival was officially under way.

The band was set up in the gym while the choir spent the day in the auditorium. Starting at 9 a.m. and practicing until 5 p.m., with several breaks scattered throughout, the students ran through the songs selected by their guest director.

At the festival, two hundred and fifty students from seventeen schools were represented, but they were united under one goal: to make beautiful music together for an expectant audience. All day the squeaks and squawks of the band, and occasionally the choir, could be heard echoing through the high school's halls.

After almost six hours of practice and repetition, the students were ready for the performance of a lifetime. At 6:30 p.m. sharp, with the musicians in position and the bleachers packed, the choir started off the night with their stunning harmonies and goose bump-inducing dynamics.

When the applause receded, it was the band's time to shine. With rousing melodies and wicked fast trills, the students blew people away and "melted some faces," as the director put it.

Participating in this program has been something I've enjoyed and looked forward to every year. Making music with people you normally only face on the court is a great opportunity to put aside school rivalries and just have fun. You build relationships with people from other schools and spend the day with individuals who are passionate about doing their job well. Being a part of a band or choir of that size is also a privilege for small schools such as Lustre. I know for a fact that the District 12 and 13 Honor Band and Choir Festival was enjoyed not just by the audience, but by the directors and the musicians as well.

Games Needed:

The LCHS Dorm has three games available for the students to play ... Apples to Apples Jr., Jenga and Pictionary.

Would you like to help increase their Game Library?

You can either purchase new games or donate used, but in good condition games.

Thank you!
