

The 53rd Annual Schmeckfest A Success By: Levi Brown

Noteworthy

News:

April 13-14 - District Music Festival - Poplar

April 16 - Glasgow Track Qualifier

April 24 - Malta Invitational Track Meet

April 27 - Richey / Lambert Invitational Track Meet

On March 23rd, a cloudy, wet and snowy day, around 750 people, give or take a few, came through slushy and muddy roads for the annual smorgasbord. As people came and went, they took notice of all the attractions and home crafted items lining the walls on three sides of the gym. On the east side of the gym were all the auction items. All were created by the gifted men and women from this community, who put in lengthy hours and spent an enormous amounts of time to craft items as unique and perfect as possible. An example of that was the beautiful quilt that was hand sewn by volunteers from the Lustre M.B. Church.

Meanwhile, the food lines continued to be full until everyone had stuffed themselves to a popping point.

Once everyone was fed and had settled down, the program for the night started. It began with the Live Auction; which had 10 items that displayed all the skillfulness and creativity that this community holds. After the auction, came the performances. There were 4 groups that presented that night. Starting off was the LCHS octet that sang "The Word Was God." This was followed by a play put on by the LCHS drama class titled "The Coin and the Sheep." Next was the M.B. Church quartet that sang "The Sweetest Song I Know." And to close the night,

The Parables (Senior Chapel) By: Harry An Le

On Thursday, April 5th, Levi Brown talked about the parables in Matthew, at his Senior Chapel, and discussed about making decisions in this life. He mentioned four types of soil. 1) The Path which describes the person who goes and reads his Bible for "it's the right thing to do". 2) The Rocky Ground that is like the person who reads the Word and then goes on his daily life like he did not read anything. 3) The Thorns are those that are distracted by earthly things from their relationship with God. 4) The Good, Fertile Soil is the person who reads the Word and understands it, lets it take root and affect his life; the person allows it to change his life for the better. Our decisions in this life matter. Though things will not be perfect because we live in a fallen world, we should choose to be the soil that produces the abundant fruit that lasts a lifetime. Humans need to learn to give up our earthly desires in order to build our relationship with God. Choosing to live with these earthly desires is choosing to deny the eternal life in heaven with God. Jesus laid his life on the cross because He loves you; He wants a personal relationship with you. So come as you are, because he is waiting.

He ended his chapel with a challenge "Where is your eternal destination?"

Spiritual Emphasis Week By: Brady Shimmin

March 12th through the 16th marked the “Spiritual Emphasis Week” at L.C.H.S., with special guest speaker Mr. John Langer. With his new book: “Yes, God Does Miracles” still hot off of the press, his topic of discussion centered mainly around many of the miracles that he and others had witnessed, many of which can be found in his book. From multiplying food, to protection from bad food and murderous villagers, Mr.

Langer’s message and books are chock full of intriguing stories and miraculous accounts. Stories of miraculous events and the supernatural were not the only lessons shared during Mr. Langer’s time here however, many stories though not necessarily about the miraculous, taught the students lessons about Christian living and our actions and attitudes towards others. In one such story (which can be found in Mr. Langer’s first book: Yes, God Does Speak), Mr. Langer told the students about his story of pickled pig’s feet, where he learned a lesson about being polite and showing Christ’s love to others. This lesson later served him in the mission field where he would be confronted with varying situations that would test his politeness and appreciation of other’s hospitality, and his commitment to showing Jesus’s love to his hosts.

Senior Trip 2018 By: Kylie Kirkaldie

Right as Schneckfest ended, the seniors headed to Minneapolis. Over the three days that they spent in the city, they got many activities in as possible.

The day after the long and exhausting 12 hour drive, the seniors went to church at Cedar Valley Church where the speaker talked about Palm Sunday and the importance of inviting other people to church.

After the great service they managed to find the Cheesecake Factory where they had one of the best lunches (and cheesecake) in their lives. That afternoon they completed a puzzle room and went to Grand Slam where there was a trampoline park, batting cage, laser tag and arcade. After the full day the tired seniors rested their heads at the meagerly AmericInn. The toilets may have had a couple problems but fortunately none of the students or chaperones caught any bed bugs. Early the next day, the seniors headed over to Feed My Starving Children for their service project. Feed My Starving Children (FMSC) is a Christian organization based on donations to send food to other countries and rely solely on volunteers to package the food. After the morning and afternoon spent at FMSC, the seniors went and watched the Timberwolves game against the Memphis Grizzlies. Unfortunately, those rooting for the Timberwolves went home (or to their motel) with disappointment. The Grizzlies won and the final score came to 101-93.

The next day, the seniors spent the whole day in the Mall of America. They did almost everything you could do there, such as seeing Sea Life, stumbling through the Mirror Maze and riding all the rides in the Nickelodeon Universe park. After a jammed pack couple of days, all the kids and adults were ready to go home. The time spent in Minnesota was a great last hoorah as a class. It also slightly reminded us all how quickly the end of our high school days was coming.

Academic Olympians Take Ribbons, Trophy

By: Thomas Brown

As is usual this time of year, LCHS took its top students from each class, along with an extra upperclassman, to the local Academic Olympics in Glasgow. Thomas Brown, Kaitlyn Toavs, Ernest Uy, Olivia Brown, and Josh Brown all piled into the van early the morning of March 14, with Mr. Marasco driving.

The students got to the Glasgow gym with plenty of time to spare, where they proceeded to take 4 tests in a row; Math, English, Science, and Social Studies. These tests were composed of 100 questions each, except for the math test, which had 50.

The LCHS students were up against eight other schools in the Class III section of Academic Olympics. There were approximately 45 students present from all over Northeast Montana. After completing the brutally hard work of answering the all 350 questions, the students were treated to Eugene's Pizza.

Following lunch, was an Oral Round, where teams went up against one another in a bracket setting. The Lustre team did well, eventually losing out in the Semifinals.

However, Lustre won the overall written tests trophy. This trophy goes to the school that had the most answers right out of all 5 students combined. The LCHS students also took every 2nd place ribbon available, with many other lower place ribbons being taken as well. Overall, the Lustre team performed very well.

Schmeckfest

Brady Shimmin played his fiddle, while Levi Brown played the bass, Dan Reddig played the guitar, and Michael Butler played the drums. The songs played were "Sally Goodin," "I'll Fly Away," and "Orange Blossom Special."

Thanks to all the hard working individuals who put in their time to make this fundraiser happen. We also thank all the people who made items to help raise money for LCHS. This would not have been possible without all your hard work!

We want to thank all of you for your part in making this year's Schmeckfest a success. Your hours spent baking, serving, planning, and crafting are a blessing to LCHS and our community.

Know that your time and effort is greatly appreciated!

The Schmeckfest Steering Committee

A Special Thank You!

Reminders:

- Several food containers were left behind, they are on the shelves in the school kitchen - please stop by and claim them
- If you bought cans of cherries or sauerkraut from the school to make your serving line food, please pay the school
- For those that have them, please turn in your name badges and committee binders
