Spiritual Emphasis Week, something of a culmination of the year's chapels, was given by Mr. Randy Brown. Born and raised in Atlanta, GA, he now lives and works as a youth minister in Jamestown, North Dakota. He served in the military for seven years, working as a chaplain's assistant and entering the chaplain candidacy program. However, despite his service, his laid-back manner definitely gave the impression of a "first-name" kind of guy.

Randy's first chapel session began, (as many did), with a video clip of comedian Tim Hawkins on March 9. After getting our attention, he gave out his cell phone number in case we had any questions and wanted to speak with him (after school of course).

He kicked off by declaring the chapel's basic purpose: to give the Bible credibility. Truth, he said, if based on man, cannot be true. Man's truth changes with circumstance, from person to person, and with time. Therefore, the Bible has to be based on God's everlasting character of truth. He went on to give an impromptu "histography" of the Bible. One of the main ways that documents' reliability may be tested is by the number of consistent copies made; the more copies there are, the more likely the document is true.

Caesar's wartime reports have only 10 copies. Plato's works have only seven, Pliny the Younger's have seven, Herodotus – 8, Aristotle – 49. All of these manuscripts are accepted as history. By comparison, the New Testament has 24,633 copies made, with less than 400 words in question as being identical. The

College Group Comes to LCHS By: Serena Weide

Chapel started with a song that Katie Perry once sang, but on this day a group of students from North Central University in Minnesota were singing it. Then the college students did a human video of how people get treated everyday in school or just in life. There were three students in the video, the first girl was a red head who got bullied at school and her friend tried to help her but the bully girl didn't let her and the second girl, the bully, was someone who thought she was so tough but no one knew that she would cut herself and that she felt pain and thirdly, the girl who wanted to help her friend from being bullied, tried to make herself pretty and wanted to impress other people. Mikela, the leader of them came in between to tell us about her trip here; it was not what they had planned. But nothing goes as planned, God's plan is better than our plan. Mikela knew that she had to do this mission trip, but she just didn't know why things weren't working out. On her way here nothing bad happened until three days before they had to leave. At first a lot of her students were bailing out on the trip, then she had no car to use so she asked her mom for help. At Dickenson the car blew a tire, she called Triple A, and one after another bad things were happening. Nothing was working out, so she called her dad and asked for help. The point she was getting at was that God put in their heart to do this mission to come to Lustre, If God lays something in your heart go for it, even if it's not your plan. "Don't be afraid to ask for help. People you keep around are very important." The group ended with a song that most of us should know 'Our God is greater'. "God is doing something we can't see even in all that has happened."

Boys Working and Playing By: Nevin Vanderschoot

The boys left the dorm this past weekend allowing Ibrahim to have some time off. Nevin and Mawin went to the home of Tony and Amy Fast and helped them with the deconstruction of the floor in the trailer house, and played some games. Chen went to visit the Uchtman's. He celebrated Diamond's and Kerry Uchtman's birthdays. Jacques and ET went to Mrs. Toews' house, where both Jacques and ET worked and ET also played some games. Silas went to Jerry Fast's house too, and later on Sunday was driven to Billings for a doctor's appointment. In the end the guys had a pretty good time with their host families March 13-15, 2015.

which may well have originated in Holland, even before the Mennonite migration to Russia, but a lot of German people love it, because this brought back their childhood memories. The families in this community have favorite recipes that have special meaning for all the kids and grandkids. Enjoy this delicious food at this year Schmeckfest on March 27, 2015.

New Testament has the most copies of any historical document – and is not accepted as history. Homer’s “The Iliad,” with only 643 copies, is second.

Another argument for the New Testament’s reliability is the number of times it was quoted by 2nd and 3rd century church fathers. It was quoted so often that a complete recreation of the New Testament is possible through the fathers’ quotes alone.

The last few arguments are that the New Testament’s writers were within 50 years of the events, geographically close, recorded by eyewitness accounts and meticulous historians (like Luke, a doctor), and the fact the all of the martyred disciples would knowingly have had to die for what they knew was an untruth. With that, Randy closed the first session.

For our afternoon chapel on Monday, Randy showed a funny video to wake up our minds. After that, he started to talk about the importance of belief in God. “Whoever wants to be my disciple must deny themselves and take up their cross daily and follow me.” (Luke 9:23, NIV). He taught us the differences between a fan and a follower of Christ. A follower will truly listen to His voice, record positive messages and the more we know the more we will love. His conclusion for this chapel is for us to be a follower we need to be committed, have an intimate relationship with Him, know He is the one and only, and be filled with the Holy Spirit.

The next day, our morning chapel was about the importance of having a worldview. Randy told us there are

2.1 billion Christians in the entire world and 1.1 billion secular/non-religious/agnostic/atheists in the world. But exactly what is a worldview? Well, he explained that a worldview is a set of presuppositions which we hold about the basic makeup of the world. Then he taught us that our relationships with family, friends and God shape our values. Those values form our beliefs and therefore our behavior.

Randy’s afternoon session again began with a Tim Hawkins video. His premise for the actual chapel talk was that of “Salt and light.” As “salty” Christians, we should preserve, flavor, and shock. We act as a preservative by keeping the Gospel alive and well in a sinful world. We add flavor to a sinful world – something not seen anywhere else. Lastly, we are to shock the world, making people realize the difference between Christ’s love and slavery to the world.

Secondly, he defined the light Christians are to show. It should be visible, even from a distance. People we even know should see a distinction between Christians and those around them. Like light, we should produce warmth. Randy then warned us to be warmth that draws in, not drives away.

Randy told a story: In the southern US, a young man joined a motorcycle club. They did not commit crimes or deal drugs, etc., but rode around and sought separation from society. However, after a death in the club, the man questioned his mortality. With a large beard, unkempt hair, and shabby clothes, he attended a church. While listening to the altar call, he began to shake. He prayed to God for a helping hand to lead him to the altar. An elder reached out his hand to the man, pulled him in close, and told the young man that “his kind” were “not welcome.” This church had a heat that drives people away. Randy then told a second story. As college kids often arrive to church late, a college student found a church with no more seats available. Instead he sat on the floor in front of the pews, so as to hear the pastor’s sermon. Many churchgoers complained that the student was distracting. A deacon approached, and many of the congregation members hoped the man would ask the student to leave. Instead he sat with the student. This warmth drew in.

The final day, Wednesday, Randy gathered the student body into a circle, and asked for our input – what people had heard from God. A few responses were given. One student said it was brought to their attention that as a Christian, you are moving toward or away from God. Another said they had been shown that one should expect God to show up when He is asked, and lastly, that we should try harder to be followers and not fans. Randy closed with a brief personal testimony, and a challenge. While many pastors talk about this generation as the “church of tomorrow,” he instead challenged us to be the church of today.

2015 Schmeckfest Instructions

- ⌚ Because of the chance of food-born illnesses, the county sanitarian recommends that whenever possible, prepare food in church or school kitchens. Wash your hands frequently with soap and hot water while preparing food. Home canned green beans are not recommended for green bean soup.
- ⌚ Please bring your soup in a crock pot. Do not bring soup in glass jars. Chicken noodle soup should have ¼ inch noodles (Kluski brand from Gordon's is pretty close to homemade!) The recipe handed out is somewhat bland so feel free to add chicken bouillon to taste.
- ⌚ Those who are bringing verenika should have "How to Cook" included in their job slips.
- ⌚ Sauerkraut should be in a roaster. Do NOT use aluminum foil. Three #10 cans are needed per recipe. This has been purchased and is available at LCHS.
- ⌚ Foam trays and plastic bags are available at the churches or by request. Use the trays for the more fragile perishke and frozen verenika. If you bake more than one day in advance, please freeze immediately and thaw before re-packaging in plastic. Package by the dozen: zwiebach, rull kuchen, perishke, and New Year's cookies (no sugar on these). Peppernuts are to be packaged in four-cup amounts.
- ⌚ Please avoid DATE and/or RAISIN fillings in perishke.

Food Tips:

- ⌚ Please wrap hot foods in newspapers, then wrapped in blankets or towels, etc
- ⌚ Label on the outside what food it is and the amount.
- ⌚ Please label all of your containers (crock pots, roasters (lids & liners too), blankets, towels, etc.) in order to find your items quickly after Schmeckfest. Remember, label only the containers you actually want back.
- ⌚ Please bring food and bake sale items to WEST door by 4:00 P.M. You will be met by an LCHS student to carry it in for you. Indicate whether the food is for the serving line or bake sale.
- ⌚ Moos needs to be packed in a cooler with ice. A one-gallon drink pitcher works well.

Other Info:

- ⌚ Tickets are sold at the south door and everyone except LCHS students buys one. Serving Line opens for 2nd shift workers at 4:30.
- ⌚ BABYSITTING IS FOR WORKERS ONLY AND ONLY DURING THEIR SHIFT.
