The

TUMBLEWEED

God's Directions By: Olivia Brown

On Thursday, October 24, Mr. Burkhart came to speak to us in chapel. He started off by asking us where we saw ourselves in two years. Most of us said we were either coming back to high school or going to college. Mr. Burkhart explained that two years ago, he was searching for a job and found the job as administrator in Lustre,

MT. So, two years ago he was already starting the process of coming here. He then made the connection that God is directing everyone's path and that no one is here by chance. We are here to grow and to prepare for the future. Life is pretty easy here in Lustre, but once you go out into the real world, it gets harder. He then had us read Psalm 51:10. It said that we should have a steadfast spirit in us. Sometimes we try to do it on our own, but it doesn't work because we need God's help. He gives us the power and strength we don't have. We as humans will eventually get tired, but God never will. In closing, Mr. Burkhart asked if anyone had prayer requests. A few of the students answered and shared their prayer request. We then prayed for these requests. Mr. Burkhart's point was that when we open our hearts, you can see and feel the support you have around you.

Underlying Holiday By: Megan Fast

When we hear October 31, we think of Halloween. Did you know that there is a different holiday on October 31? It is also Reformation Day. On October 31, 1517, a German monk named Martin Luther nailed the 95 Theses on the door of the Wittenberg Church. This is the act that triggered the Protestant Reformation. Why did the act of nailing Theses (statements) to the door of a church start a Reformation? There is more to the story.

It starts with a man named Albert of Mainz. Albert was a young bishop in Germany. He made a contribution to the rebuilding of St. Peter's Basilica in Rome. However, he borrowed the money, and needed a way to pay it back. The selling of indulgences came to be the solution. What is an indulgence? An indulgence was the idea of buying your sins to clear your record. You could pay for the sins you had committed and for those who

Sweet Win for Senior Night

By: Hannah Thomas

Senior Night was a big night for the volleyball girls, not only did they get a W (win) but the volleyball seniors were also being recognized. The sad part of the evening was when Lily Short sprained her ankle / tore ligaments and was no longer able to play. It was a proud moment watching the rest of the team keep their heads high and play to the best of their ability. Throughout the night the girls had great kills, spikes and serves and other amazing things. The stats for the game are: 8 kills which was led by Amber Reddig, 2 blocks and 9 aces from Alexa Reddig, 12 digs by Tiana Whitmus and 11 assists by Ashley O'Hara. In total the Lady Lions had 24 kills, 36 aces, 47 digs and 23 assists. The scores were very close in all 5 of the games, but the Lady Lions kept their heads held high and played greatly against the Nashua-Opheim Lady Rivals. The games scores are: 20-25(G1), 25-14(G2), 25-14(G3), 26-28(G4) and 15-12 (G5) the scores are listed Lady Lions to Lady Rivals. It was a great night and a proud moment for the volleyball team, they did very well and played to their full potential.

GO LIONS GO!

The Moment We've All Been Waiting For

By: Amber Reddig

The Lady Lions have been working hard all season long and steadily making improvements. They've had many practices preparing themselves for all of the games. Tournament started on Thursday, October 31st. The girls got to leave school that morning. The grade school and other high school kids, along with teachers, sent off the volleyball girls with high fives, cheering, and encouraging words. The team loaded onto the cruiser which was decorated for tournament, and everyone was full of school pride and ready to go. Since it's a super district this year, Districts was a little different than usual. There were 12 teams there, 5 would advance to Divisionals, and 7 sadly would not. Along with the Lustre Lady Lions attending this tournament were the teams Plentywood, Fairview, Savage, Froid/Medicine Lake, Culbertson, Bainville, MonDak, Scobey, Richey/Lambert, North Country, and Nashua/Opheim. The cruiser arrived in Plentywood with some extra time before they would play their first game, which was at 4:30 that afternoon. They hung out at their motel where they would stay overnight on Thursday. The Lions were going into tournament in 11th place out of 12, and they started out playing Richey/Lambert. They unfortunately lost in three with the scores of 11-25, 4-25, 9-25. The Lady Lions struggled returning some of the serves from the other team, and that was part of why the scores were the way they were. The girls had to adjust to some changes because Lily, their main setter, was sadly out for tournament because of injuring her ankle in a previous game. After the game the team ate at a local restaurant in Plentywood called Randy's. That night they started preparing themselves for the next day of tournament already. The girls woke up ready to play against the Scobey Spartans. Once again, the Lady Lions lost in three. The scores were 7-25, 13-25, 7-25. Over the weekend of tournament the girls faced some obstacles and dealt with the changes, but still pulled together at times. It was a sad end to the season as the girls lost out that morning and were now out of tournament play. It was especially sad for some seniors because those tournament games were how they ended their high school career of volleyball, and it wasn't what the team was wanting or hoping for. This whole volleyball season was a growing and learning experience, as well as making overall improvements throughout it all. The Lady Lions worked hard all season and made many good memories. Also, all of the fans coming to support all season, and making the trip to Plentywood to cheer them on, was much appreciated. The 2019 volleyball season has now come to an end for the Lady Lions.

Running the Race of Life By: Lily Short

On Wednesday, October 30th, Megan presented her Senior Chapel to our school. Her topic was Legacy and what legacy we are going to leave behind. She started out by asking, "What if you died today?" She made the analogy of legacy being like a relay race. We are passing the baton down from each generation. She mentioned a few verses in the bible that dealt with running the race of life including, 2

Timothy 4:7-8 and 1 Corinthians 9:24.

Megan then played a song for us on the piano while she sang and Mr. Butler played the guitar and sang as well. The song was called "Before you call me Home" by Mark Shultz, and it was a great way to understand a legacy. The song talked about a funeral, and it asked if I've lived a life of love and if we've left a good legacy for our kids. Megan said that if we made something besides God the center of our lives, then we would spiritually die. She gave great examples of real-life things that we could apply in our own lives.

She ended by asking us if Jesus will say well done, and if we ran our race to win. Megan's chapel really made us think about our lives, and if we died today, what our legacy would look like.

Kyle "a-PEERS" to Know What he is Talking About By: Terry Allmer

Lustre Christians beloved Kyle came to speak about peer pressure last Thursday. He was very passionate about this subject and the crowd gave him all ears. He started off his chapel with a clever analogy. He compared a trip to Israel, which a classmate is going on, to our life. He concluded the analogy by saying we are here on earth for maybe one hundred years. We need to make sure we aren't wasting our time assimilating to the world or trying to blend in with it. He also said peer pressure isn't always bad. Peer pressure has its advantages to it. Some of those advantages being if you decide not to do your homework your friend can pressure you into doing it. These are the type of friends you need. Friends that try to bully you or try to pressure you into doing stupid things you need to get a court order against. Not actually, but you need to know who your friends are. Ones that will push you in a good way and not negatively. Kyle gave us many passages in the bible that he used as an example to help explain the seriousness of peer pressure to the audience. One passage was Mark 6:17-28. In this passage it talks about how Herod was trying to impress a lady on his birthday. The lady asked Herod to kill John in order for them to have a relationship and Herod asked for John's head to be cut off. Kyle's example was astonishing. I believe it really did stick with his subject well and showed how peer pressure can lead to bad situations, or even end up killing somebody. Finally, Kyle closed with this "I close with this, live your life as if you are on a short stay in a strange land. Will you assimilate or be set apart with God?"

We thank Kyle for making such a great

Senior Chapel on a hot topic. He and Megan are the first to get their Senior Chapels done. The rest of the chapels are still to be decided because the Senior class is full of slackers.

A Strong Foundation By: Diego Froiland

If I were to say LCHS Foundation to you without any other words, would you know exactly what I was talking about, or how it affects you? Let's just say this foundation is a big factor behind this school even being here. Because of farm equipment being donated they were able to auction it off and the money gained was given to an organization called the MB Foundation that invested the money for them, causing it to grow exponentially. This organization only invests in things that would be Christ approved things. How much the school receives depends on the amount they have in the funds. For example, in 1998 the funds were one hundred thousand dollars and the school received five thousand. Just recently the funds have grown to over one million dollars, and because of this the school then receives fifty-three thousand.

On the 29th of October there was a dinner to honor the supporters of this endowment. The elaborate dinner was roast beef, and taters, with carrots, salad and buns, along with some other sides. After dinner Keith Unger shared that approximately 80 acres of land is being harvested by the program and they hold about three thousand bushels of peas. He also shared that this was a kickoff for the $100 Foundation Club, who's main goal is to continue providing a solid Christian education. Next off there were some prize drawings. There were flashlights, hats, gloves and sorts given out that were all donated.

We were then addressed by Maury

Graham. He spoke on the topic of the disconnection between the younger and older generations of today's age. One of the biggest things that causes this is the absence of fathers in homes, and also people living longer than before making a greater age gap. Another thing leading to this would be that we're in the technological age. Instead of going to the older generation for information, kids will go to the internet for information. So, as a responsibility we're to reach out, lead them and help them. After finishing off it ended with the last of the drawing prizes with the grand prize being, His and Her watches, from Baker's Jewelry.

 were in purgatory. During this time, it was believed that when you died you went to purgatory. Purgatory was a place in the supposed "next life" where one could continue to cancel the debts of one's sins. If you paid for a person who had already died then they went to heaven.

The people of the time did not know that this was wrong. The Catholic priests were the only ones who read and studied the scriptures. They controlled what the people heard from the Bible. It also did not help that most people could not read.

Martin Luther started reading the Bible for himself. He realized that indulgences were unbiblical. Luther strategically planned when he posted his 95 Theses. November 1, is All Saints' Day. In 1517 there was a massive exhibit of newly acquired relics on display in Wittenberg. People would come from all around to see these. Luther wanted his Theses to spark some debate as well as some soul searching. However, it sparked the start of the Protestant Reformation.

I am the head coach for the North Country Lady Mavericks Volleyball Team. I WANTED TO LET YOUR SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY KNOW YOU HAVE AN AWESOME VOLLEYBALL TEAM. They were a class act of athletes at the District Volleyball Tournament in Plentywood this past weekend. They didn't walk away with a win but their sportsmanship and attitudes were outstanding. It is a difficult journey to walk for a whole season not winning until the very last match of the season and then to lose a senior before the tournament and have to plan for something different challenges players, coaches and parents. As a coach I want my players to be good people first then be good volleyball players. Kim Klatt is exactly that kind of coach and person. You should be very proud of the person you put in charge of your volleyball program because she is doing more than just teaching volleyball skills she is teaching life skills. It is a special treat when teams can compete hard against each other and walk away with respecting each other as people. I was very proud of your athletes sitting in our cheering section and participating with our crowd to give us a boost. Little things like that mean a lot to me and our team. Please pass this along to your staff, coaches, AD, principal, superintendent, parents, and community. I want everyone in Lustre to know you have great kids who are going to be great people in the future.

Thank you and we sincerely appreciate all your volleyball team did for us at the District Tournament.

Jen (the lunch cook for LGS & LCHS) was injured in an ATV accident on July 15th. She spent several days in the hospital recovering from emergency surgery. At the time, James & Jennifer did not have insurance. So all of the medical expenses are now out of pocket. We would like to show the Gibson's some love, and support them with a night of fellowship and donations. Whether or not you know them, please come out for an evening of fellowship and food!

#4 Lustre High Cir, Lustre, MT 59225 (406-392-5735)

FIVE SAMPLES REQUIRED AND COLLECTED
LOCATION	RESULTS FOR LEAD	RESULTS FOR COPPER
Kitchen #1	ND (Not Detectable)	0.021 mg/L
Kitchen #2	ND (Not Detectable)	0.026 mg/L
Janitor Room	ND	0.016 mg/L
Men's Bathroom	ND	0.023 mg/L
Women's Bathroom	ND	0.030 mg/L

The action level for LEAD is 0.015 mg/L with the maximum contaminant level goal set at zero. The action level and maximum contaminant level goal for COPPER is 1.3 mg/L. The results indicate we have NOT exceeded the lead action level NOR the copper action level on any sample.

What Does This Mean?

Under the authority of the Safe Drinking Water Act, EPA set the action level for lead in drinking water at 0.015 mg/L and 1.3 mg/L for copper. This means utilities must ensure that water from the customer's tap does not exceed these levels in at least 90 percent of the homes sampled (90th percentile value). The action level is the concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow. If water from the tap does exceed this limit, then the utility must take certain steps to correct the problem. Because lead may pose serious health risks, the EPA set a Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG) of zero for lead. The MCLG is the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

What Are The Health Effects of Lead?

Lead can cause serious health problems if too much enters your body from drinking water or other sources. It can cause damage to the brain and kidneys, and can interfere with the production of red blood cells that carry oxygen to all parts of your body. The greatest risk of lead exposure is to infants, young children, and pregnant women. Scientists have linked the effects of lead on the brain with lowered IQ in children. Adults with kidney problems and high blood pressure can be affected by low levels of lead more than healthy adults. Lead is stored in the bones, and it can be released later in life. During pregnancy, the child receives lead from the mother's bones, which may affect brain development.

What Are the Health Effects of Copper?

Copper is an essential nutrient, but some people who drink water containing copper in excess of the action level over a relatively short amount of time could experience gastrointestinal distress. Some people who drink water containing copper in excess of the action level over many years could suffer liver or kidney damage. People with Wilson's Disease should consult their personal doctor.

What Are The Sources of Lead and Copper?

Lead is a common metal found in the environment. The main sources of lead exposure are lead-based paint and lead-contaminated dust or soil. Drinking water is also a possible source of lead exposure. Most sources of drinking water have no lead or very low levels of lead. Most lead gets into drinking water after the water leaves the local well or treatment plant and comes into contact with plumbing materials containing lead. These include lead pipes, lead solder (commonly used until 1986), as well as faucets, valves, and other components made of brass. Copper works its way into the water by dissolving from copper pipes in the household plumbing. The longer the water has stood idle in the pipes, the more copper it is likely to have absorbed. Newer homes with copper pipes may be more likely to have a problem. Over time, a coating forms on the inside of the pipes and can insulate the water from the copper in the pipes. In newer homes, this coating has not yet had a chance to develop.

What Can I Do To Reduce Exposure to Lead and Copper in Drinking Water?

Run your water to flush out lead and copper. If water hasn't been used for several hours, run water for 15-30 seconds or until it becomes cold or reaches a steady temperature before using it for drinking or cooking. This flushes lead and copper-containing water from the pipes.

- Use cold water for cooking and preparing baby formula.
- Do not boil water to remove lead or copper.
- Look for alternative sources or treatment of water.
- Test your water for lead or copper.
- Identify if your plumbing fixtures contain lead or copper.

For more information on reducing lead exposure around your home and the health effects of lead, visit EPA's Website at www.epa.gov/lead, call the National Lead Information Center at 800-424-LEAD, or contact your health care provider.
