Alexa and Grace’s Senior Chapel By Ife Aniobi

On March 5, 2024, two of our seniors, Alexa Reddig and Grace Brown, gave their senior chapels. As you all know, every senior must give a chapel presentation to graduate from LCHS. The chapels count as 7 percent of the student's final semester Bible grade, so they want to take it seriously.

Alexa spoke about identity and the importance of understanding who we are in Christ. Alexa explained at the beginning of her chapel that nowadays, the world is trying to confuse our identity or force us into thinking that we are something we are not. She mentioned the LGBTQ movement, which is affecting so many young people today. In our generation, the youth are now identifying themselves as gay; same-sex marriage is being normalized, and it is no longer weird for people of the same sex to be together. Alexa gave the example of the bleeding woman that Jesus healed. The woman had been suffering from bleeding for 12 years, and she had suffered under the care of many doctors. Instead of her condition improving, she only got worse, and she had spent all she had. When the woman heard about Jesus, she approached him from behind, in the crowd, and touched his cloak because she thought, "If I just touch his clothes, I will be healed." Immediately, her bleeding stopped, and she felt in her body that she was freed from her suffering. Alexa used this example to explain that the world gave that woman an identity—an identity of a sick woman that no one cared about—but in Christ, her identity was that she was a loved child of God, and he did not want her to suffer. The conclusion is that the world gives us an identity, but our true identity is found in the Lord Jesus Christ!

Grace followed Alexa, and her senior chapel was about why we should serve God. Grace had three main reasons. She said we should serve God first because the Bible commands us to do so. She explained that many verses in the Bible command us to serve Him in both the New and Old Testament. God even showed us how to serve him by sending us his son, Jesus, the perfect example. Secondly, serving God is a way to spread the Gospel, and although it is not the only way to spread the Gospel, it is important because when we can be God's hands and feet on earth, the light of Jesus can shine. The third and final reason why we should serve God is because it not only brings God joy, but it also brings us joy. Grace said that if you are truly serving God while helping others, you will experience joy and satisfaction.

Ms. Eggar's Chapel By Gabe Sapp

Ms. Emily Eggar's chapel was on the 29th of February, and she spoke about the importance of cell phones. Even though there is a negative stigma around cell phones, she tried to shed light on the resourceful tool. The opinion about phones in Lustre is not excellent, but Ms. Eggar masterfully delivered her message in a symphony of three main points.

The first point is that it is a privilege to carry the world's knowledge in your hand. She stated, "Our parents had to look these things up in a dictionary." The second point is that we are responsible for representing Christ well in these online spaces. We can do this by being respectful and kind and exhibiting the fruits of the spirit. The last point she left us with is arguably the most important of the three. She said, "We have a remarkable opportunity that no other generation has had to spread the Word of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. We can spread the good news by sharing our faith in these online spaces or making posts that can get thousands of views. The audience received these points well and encouraged the students to use social media, the internet, and their phones wisely.

Anxiety By Cassidy Grider

Your heart is racing, and your palms are sweaty. You can't seem to catch a breath, and your mind is going 100 miles an hour. This is very common for people who have anxiety. Everybody experiences anxiety at some point in their lives. We all know what it feels like to get that butterfly feeling in our stomachs when we are nervous about something. Anxiety is defined as "a feeling of fear, dread, or uneasiness." It is a normal stress reaction and can happen at any time. Other symptoms of anxiety include trouble concentrating or making decisions, feeling irritable, tense, or restless, experiencing nausea, difficulty sleeping, sweating, trembling, or shaking.

Anxiety can be hard to deal with at times, but it can be easier to manage with the right coping skills. Find something calming that you love to do. Whether it's painting, exercising, listening to music, or reading, do something that you love to do that will distract you. As someone with anxiety, I can testify to this. Anxiety is a real struggle, and honestly, it can impact anybody.

Peer Pressure By Sarah Dahl

Study.com defines peer pressure as “when you are influenced by others (your peers) to act in a certain way.” This can be dangerous, depending on the situation. If the peer pressure is simply your friends/peers trying to get you out of your comfort zone and doing something you have always dreamed of doing, this can be a good thing. Peer pressure can get dangerous if your friends/peers are trying to get you to do something that will get you in trouble or against your morals, beliefs, etc. People tend to see peer pressure as bad, but it depends on the situation and what kind of people you are surrounding yourself with. If the people you are around are there to help you become a better person and lift you up, you can trust that their peer pressure will be helpful for you to achieve your goals, dreams, etc. If the people around you are the opposite of this and are constantly doing things that will get you and them in trouble, and all they care about is themselves, this is when peer pressure can be harmful.

In the big picture, as Christians, the best way to handle peer pressure, whether good or bad, is to take time and bring the situation to God before making any decisions. He will give us the discernment we need to know what decisions we should make in life, no matter how big or small the decision is; he will guide us to choose what is right; all we have to do is bring it to him and ask for his guidance.

What do you need to be an Entrepreneur? By Eyosias Ayalew

My name is Eyosias Ayalew, and I got the opportunity to discuss the requirements for becoming an entrepreneur. And for someone who aspires to become an entrepreneur, I would advise focusing on a few important skills. The most important one is listening. Many would argue that listening over talking, but I disagree, if you are not a good listener, you will not be able to hear what they want from you. Of course, speaking is another fundamental aspect of becoming an entrepreneur in general. These are the other skills you must learn. After that, secondary skills to that list, understanding how money works, knowing what people want, and identifying your ideal client. The product is then advertised, to sell it, and know where it will sell the best. Reading people is another talent that many undervalue. It can help you determine whether a potential customer will appreciate you, your offer, whether he is worth your time, and many other things. I saw a YouTube video that recommended using smart terms and making yourself the winner rather than the client. The most important piece of advice I've seen from a show based on a true story is to trust no one except yourself. Each business owner risked all their resources. There wouldn't be an entrepreneur without risk. My goal is to be a successful entrepreneur and value my clients and employees.

The Heart of Midwifery: A Calling Inspired by Compassion and Commitment

By Mitchella Rossidor

Being a midwife is a noble and rewarding profession that requires a unique set of skills and characteristics. To become a midwife, one must possess a deep sense of compassion, empathy, and a desire to aid people during one of the most vulnerable times in their lives. Apart from these personal qualities, a midwife needs to have an in-depth understanding of anatomy, physiology, and medical procedures to ensure safe deliveries. They must also possess excellent communication and interpersonal skills to provide emotional support and guidance to expectant mothers and their families. In my opinion, the role of a midwife is essential in society. They bring new life into the world, provide support and guidance to new mothers, and ensure that every pregnancy and childbirth is as safe and healthy as possible. The joy and satisfaction that come with helping to deliver a healthy baby and seeing the relief and happiness on the faces of new parents are priceless. Furthermore, midwifery is a profession that is steeped in history, tradition, and culture. It is a profession that has been around for centuries and is respected across the globe. It is a profession that values human connection and focuses on the needs of the individual, making it a fulfilling career choice for those who seek to make a positive impact on society.

In conclusion, being a midwife requires a combination of personal qualities, medical expertise, and interpersonal skills. It is a profession that is both challenging and rewarding, and one that I greatly admire. The world needs more midwives, and I am grateful for all those who make it their life's work to help bring new life into the world.

Being Manager for the Team By Courtney Teichroew

I have managed the boys' basketball team in Lustre for the last three years. I started my sophomore year with Joel, Hadden, and Prestyn being managers with me. That year, the team got to divisionals in Sidney before losing out. I had a lot of fun that year getting to know the team. In my junior year, the other manager was Joel. That year, the team made it to state in Billings. I have a lot of fun memories from going to state for the first time with the team and the normal season being with the team. My senior year was the most fun for me this year; the other managers were KJ and Mason. This year, the team went to state for the second time, and we placed third. One of the things that I liked about this year was all the support that the team got from everyone during the season going to state and seeing everyone there to support us and help the team with stuff. My senior year was my favorite out of all three years. I hope to see some of the games next year.

Staff look-Alikes By Cayden Klatt

An interesting topic that has come up in conversation recently is "What celebrities/actors look similar to our staff and teachers." So, I was assigned to write this article talking about these things with the help of my classmates. My first teacher, with multiple look-alikes, is Miss Dela Cruz. Her first look-alike is the clothing designer from The Incredibles, named Edna Mode. Her second look-alike is the infamous Dora Marquez from Dora the Explorer. Following Miss Dela Cruz's resembling characters, we have Mr. Ross. Mr. Ross resembles a man from a show many of you may have seen, called "Fiddler on the Roof." The character from this movie that he most resembles is Tevye, the main character. Mr. Mattyser is our next person, resembling Stoick the Vast from "How to Train Your Dragon," mainly through the red beard. Our next teacher is Miss Eggar, resembling Samantha Sparks from Cloudy With a Chance of Meatballs with glasses. Lastly, resembling El Primero from Ferdinand is Mr. Marasco. Let us know what you think of these comparisons and feel free to offer your input as long as it is respectful! Hopefully, you enjoyed these staff look-alikes! Stay tuned as next time in The Tumbleweed we will be looking at the administrators and board members look alike.

Lions Get Their 1st Silverware at State by Aubri Holzrichter

March 6th through March 9th, the Lustre Christian Lions traveled to Great Falls and played four days straight in the state tournament. On Wednesday, the Lions faced The Melstone Broncs to advance to the semi-finals. It was a tight game until the fourth quarter when Lustre pulled away and won; the final score was 51 to 44. Johnslee had his best game of the season, dropping 30 points with four dunks!

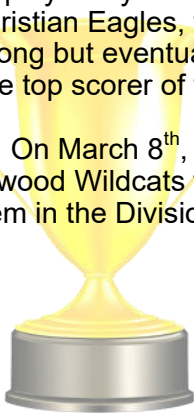

They had to play last year's state champions; the Manhattan Christian Eagles, the next day. The Lions came out strong but eventually lost the lead and lost; 48 to 42. The top scorer of that game was Cayden with 11 points.

On March 8th, the Lions had to face the Plentywood Wildcats for the second time after beating them in the Divisional Championship just a week earlier. After a tough loss against Manhattan, Lustre brought the fire and won the game 58 to 44; bringing the Wildcats season to an end.

The Lions went to the consolation game to play against the Harlowton Engineers. The first quarter started out rough; the score being 6 to 11. After half time The Lustre Lions weren't done yet and ended up winning the game, 53 to 43, taking home the third-place trophy! The top scorers for that game were Cam with 18 and Clay with 15. The boys ended their season with a win which most teams don't get to, so good job from all of us and GO LIONS! Congratulations to the Coaches and team. Your hard work paid off.

Lustre Lions at Divisionals By Grace Brown

On Wednesday, the 26th, the boys' basketball team started their divisional tournament. After getting to Glasgow, they started their first game against the Savage Warriors. This game was supposed to be pretty good since Savage had been ranked in the state with our boys, but our boys showed them who the better team was. Savage only scored two points in the first quarter compared to our boys' thirteen points. Savage did better in the second quarter but couldn't bring up the win. The final score was 64 to 28. Cayden was the high scorer, scoring 15 points. Cam and Johnlee were right behind with 13 points.

After winning that game, they went on to play on Thursday against the Circle Wildcats who we have previously beaten in every game that the two teams played against each other. In this game, the Lions stormed out and took the early lead. They ended up winning the game 68 to 43. Johnlee was the high scorer with 13 points, and Cayden and Cam were just one point behind, with 12 points each.

Winning the game against Circle put the Lions in the championship against Plentywood. Many people thought it would be the Lions against the Scobey Spartans, but Plentywood boys beat the Spartans in a very close game. The last divisional game, the championship, was highly anticipated as the boys' game would make it to state if they won.

It felt like everyone from Lustre showed up to support our boys for this critical game. Both teams started strong, with the first quarter score at 15 to 12, with the Lions in the lead. Both teams scored 12 in the next quarter, leaving the halftime score at 24-27, and the Lions were up by 3. The third quarter was the same, both teams scoring 15 points. The fourth and final quarter was the deciding quarter when our boys went off. They outscored Plentywood by 7 points, leaving the final score 56 to 47. This win sent the Lions to state without the threat of a challenge game. Byron and Clay were the high scorers with 16 points each. Cayden was the next-highest scorer with 11 points. Thanks for your support this season.

Girl's Divisional Tournament By Terran Joseph

Thursday, the 29th of February, the Lady Lions started their divisional tournament, with their first game being the Bainville Lady Bulldogs. Coming out not as good as they usually do, the Lady Lions put up a total of 21 points in the first half. Still fighting to start the tournament with a win, the girls kept the game steady but fell short in the end, with the final score being 50-46. Their 2nd game the following day was against the Savage Warriors; coming off the loss from Bainville, the Lady Lions came off strong, holding the Lady Warriors to 20 points in the half with the score at 41 to 20. The girls finished the rest of the game amazingly, ending the night with a win with a score of 67-50. With an early Saturday game, the Lady Lions faced off against their rivals, the Scobey Lady Spartans. The girls fought hard and came in with a lot of energy, with both teams being strong offensively with a score of 15-13 in the first quarter, only allowing the Spartans 6 points in the 2nd quarter, leading in the half with a score of 25-19. But the Lady Lions came up short in the end, only scoring 3 points in the 4th quarter, and the final score of the season was 49-42.
